

Pacific Harbor Line

“Gateway to the World”

(Final version may vary from this photo)

Order Now! – Limited run!

The Pacific Harbor Line provides transportation, maintenance, and dispatching service to the Ports of Long Beach and Los Angeles which together form the largest container port in the United States. Formed 1998 to take over for the Harbor Belt Line, it takes cargo from the ports to railheads of UP and BNSF – (140 container trains per day). We have approval from Pacific Harbor Line to make this car one time only for delivery at the convention – these will not be run again!
